COOLIDGE TAKES PLACE ON TICKET

Massachusetts Governor Announces He Accepts Nomination.

FAME GROWS QUICKLY

Stand for Law and Order in Boston Police Strike Gains Him Fame.

BOOMED FOR PRESIDENCY

Campaign Conducted for Him but He Did Not Seek Office; Long in Politics.

BOSTON, June 12.—Governor Coolidge when notified tonight that he had been nominated by the republican convention for the vice presidency, authorized the Associated Press to say that he would accept the nomination.

Governor Coolidge received word of his nomination in his apartment at the Adams house in company with Mrs. Coolidge and his aide, Capt. Charles S. Riley, and his secretary, Henry E. Long. The governor indicated that he was very well pleased with the honor. In his rooms this evening Governor Coolidge had followed the balloting with the keenest interest and upon the announcement of the nomination of Senator Harding, he immediately sent the senator a telegram of congratulations. He had then left the hotel for a stroll when he was recalled with word that his name had been placed before the convention at Chicago a second time this time for the vice presidency.

Over a telephone line from the local office of the Associated Press, he received a vote of the states and the flash of his nomination. He indicated his acceptance and then announced the news to Mrs. Coolidge and the others of their party.

The governor issued the following statement: "The nomination for vice president coming to me unsought and unexpected, I accept as an honor and a duty. It will be especially pleasing to be associated with my old friend, Senator Harding, our candidate for president.

"The republican party has adopted a sound platform, chosen a wise leader and is united. It deserves the confidence of the American people. That confidence I shall endeavor to secure."

BOSTON, June 12.—Calvin Coolidge of Northampton, Mass., although in public life almost ever since his graduation from Amherst college in 1895, was little known outside of Massachusetts until the greater part of the police force of Boston went on strike in September, 1919. Coolidge was governor. He ordered out the state guard to patrol the streets of Boston after a night of rioting, announced that law and order would be preserved and declared that the strikers were deserters and that their places would be filled by other men.

The strikers never regained their jobs.

Standard Bearer of Republican Party

Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio

Marion, Ohio, Harding's Home City Is Wild With Joy at News

MARION, Ohio, June 12.—This little central Ohio city of nearly 36,000 people went wild with joy and enthusiasm tonight when it learned that one of its citizens, Warren G. Harding, had been nominated for the presidency by the republican convention.

Several minutes before it was announced officially at Chicago that Harding had been nominated, Marion started celebrating what it considered a sure thing. Factory whistles were tooted, church bells rung and Harding's friends and neighbors gathered in the streets in shouting, laughing groups.

No one was at the Harding home to receive the news.

Harding's father and sister who live here, were the center of on-impulsive groups of townspeople who discussed excitedly the developments.

Father a Physician.

The father, Dr. George P. Harding, a practicing physician, received the news of the honor to his son on his 74th birthday. He seemed highly elated as did his sister, Abigail Harding, who teaches English in the Marion school.

The elder Harding received the news without excitement. He declared he had not wanted his son to be nominated, but now that he is nominated, he declared he would vote for him for president.

Earlier in the day when Harding's nomination appeared assured, the father told intimate friends he hoped "Warren" would not be nominated as so many presidents and men in high offices are assassinated. Nevertheless Doctor Harding appeared to be the happiest man in the world tonight.

Mrs. Harding was with her husband at Chicago when the nomination was made. The Hardings have no children.

Senator Harding's middle name is "Gamaliel." The republican nominee knows how to smile even under defeat. This was shown in the 1916 Ohio campaign when he opposed Judson Harmon for governor and was defeated by the democratic candidate by more than 100,000 despite campaign assistance from Theodore Roosevelt.

Senator Harding is a successful newspaper publisher. Since 1914 he has owned and published the Marion Star. He has been in newspaper work since he was 19. When in Marion he spends his time in the active management of the paper. He is a practical printer and delights in spending hours in his composing room handling type.

He began his newspaper work in the Marion Mirror, a democratic newspaper at 21 a week salary and was discharged from the staff during the Blaine campaign because his sympathies were with Blaine and because he insisted on wearing the high hat off the Blaine partisans.

An Ohio Son.

The republican presidential nominee was born on November 12, 1865, at Blomington, Morrow county, Ohio, 19 miles east of Marion. When a boy his family moved to Caledonia, nine miles nearer Marion where young Harding taught school two years. He played a cornet in the Caledonia brass band, and later received a college education at a little Baptist college at Iberia, Ohio.

When 12, Harding moved to Marion to study law, but law did not hold his fancy. In college he had been editor of the college newspaper and newspaper work thrilled him.

CHICAGO, June 12.—Will A. Hays of Indiana was tonight re-elected chairman of the republican national committee.

Mr. Hays was re-elected at a meeting of the national committee presided over by Henry McCoy, national committeeman from the Philippines. Harry M. Daugherty, national manager for Senator Harding, appeared on the selection of a candidate requested that "something prompt, snappy and positive be done forthwith," to launch the fall campaign. The work ought not to be delayed, said Mr. Daugherty.

He asked that a subcommittee be appointed to confer with Senator Harding on the selection of assistant officers and an executive committee.

The national committee elected John T. Adams of Iowa, vice chairman; Clarence E. Miller of Minnesota, secretary; and Guy Howard, also of Minnesota, assistant sergeant-at-arms.

WOOD THANKS SUPPORTERS

Congratulates Harding and Issues Statement Thanking All Friends.

CHICAGO, June 12.—Fear of a deadlock which might be detrimental to his party caused Gov. Frank O. Lowden to release his delegates on the convention floor at today's session, according to a statement made by him tonight. Governor Lowden said:

"After the sixth ballot upon which I received a plurality of all votes cast, it was represented to me that the delegates were becoming restive under the delay. Fearing a protracted deadlock, which I believed would have been detrimental to the interest of the country, I decided to release all delegates and advised them to use their best judgment as to whom they should support. I have great confidence in the ability and character of the successful candidate, shall support him with all heartiness and believe the ticket will be elected. The republican party has not had such an opportunity for service in half a century.

Nominee and Wife Both "Very Happy" Go to Washington

CHICAGO, June 12.—Caught at the hotel to which he rushed from the Coliseum after his nomination, Senator Harding made no formal statement but declared he was "very happy" and "deeply grateful to his friends."

The republican nominee showed plainly his elation when he emerged from his rooms with Mrs. Harding to face a battery of camera men.

If you want to make Mrs. Harding longed to see the man on whom the republican party has just conferred the greatest honor in its gift, "tell her something about police of millinery coming down."

There was a burst of laughter in which Mrs. Harding joined and the cameras clicked a lively accompaniment as the photographers adopted the suggestion.

Mrs. Harding was beaming with happiness. Asked for some comment upon her feeling as to the distinction given her husband by his fellow republicans:

"I am tremendously pleased, of course," but I think my husband is worthy of this honor and I am content to be the reflected light."

Senator and Mrs. Harding were busy with preparations enabling them to catch a train leaving for Washington within a few hours. The senator had been up nearly all night in the round of conferences with party chieftains which led to his nomination and today spent hours in the heat and strain at the Coliseum while the battle from which he emerged a victor by overwhelming vote was being brought to its dramatic close.

The pleasure of the victory had relaxed the physical strain, however, and the Ohio senator showed little evidence of it after he had bathed and put on fresh clothing.

Today happens to be the birthday of Senator Harding's father George T. Harding of Marion, Ohio. The senator's birthday falls the coming election date, November 2, when he will be 55 years of age.

Senator and Mrs. Harding entertained a small party of friends at dinner tonight. Their guests were Will H. Hays, chairman of the republican national convention; Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Sawyer of Marion, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Seobey of San Antonio, Texas; C. R. Cregar of San Antonio formerly of Ohio; and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vissering of Chicago. The senator's party will leave at 11:45 p. m. for Washington.

Senator Harding tonight issued the following statement:

"I am very proud as any man should be of receiving the great honor of the republican party. I am proud of the obligation and responsibility that go with it."

RESENT BEING IGNORED

Labor Delegates Hiss When Platform of Republicans Is Read at Convention.

MONTREAL, June 11.—Amid tremendous applause the American Federation of Labor at its annual convention here today adopted a report condemning the republican convention in Chicago for turning its back on labor, in adopting its platform.

Samuel Gompers announced today executive council has announced that labor's demand submitted to the republican convention can be presented in identical form to the national democratic convention.

During reading of report presented by Samuel Gompers and Matthew Wool, president and vice president of the labor union, various sections of republican planks criticized by the labor leaders were hissed, while their critics received applause.

"It will be noted that the platform," said the statement, "is silent on the essential right of wage earners to organize into trade unions and select their own representatives who ignore the fact that they collectively own the country and control the government."

Lowden Releases Delegates Who Swing to Ohio Senator—Governor Sproul Also Turns to Winner Who Goes on Tenth Ballot.

GOVERNOR WINS ON FIRST BALLOT

Combination of Harding Backers to Put Senator Lenroot on Ticket Upset—Demonstration After Long Session.

CHICAGO, June 12.—Warren G. Harding, United States senator from Ohio, was nominated for the presidency today by the republican national convention after a deadlock which lasted for nine ballots and which finally forced out of the running all the original favorites.

As his running mate, the convention named Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts, upsetting a plan of a combination of the Harding backers to nominate for the place Senator Irvin L. Lenroot of Wisconsin.

The collapse of the forces of Governor Frank O. Lowden and their transfer in large part to Senator Harding, put the Ohio candidate over.

General Wood lost heavily, however, when the Harding drift began and Senator Johnson, the third of the trio of leaders on the early balloting yesterday, also went steadily downhill.

Entering the convention four days ago as a candidate, standing of the "dark horse" class, Senator Harding got only 64 votes on the first ballot yesterday and on the second he dropped to 54. When the convention adjourned last night at the end of the fourth ballot, he had 61.

In all-night conferences among the party chiefs, however, he was mentioned many times as the most likely to break the nomination deadlock should neither Wood, Lowden nor Johnson take a commanding lead today. They all failed to do so.

Wood and Lowden, joined neck and neck race for leadership on four more ballots while the strength of the California candidates dwindled steadily.

Swing Is Begun.

Meantime, Harding pushed his total to 133, individual delegates from many states swinging to him from the columns of the leaders and of various favorite sons. The Johnson managers, fearing a landslide was impending, then made a last play to save the fortunes of their candidate. They moved to recess for a couple of hours in order to take an inventory and seek a new combination.

The Wood and Lowden forces, however, eventually as the result of the conference that followed, the fate of the candidates virtually was sealed. Some of the Wood and Lowden managers tried ineffectually for an hour to bring about a nomination. There was also a conference between Johnson and Harding supporters in which the Ohioans' supporters tried without success to win the nomination for Johnson.

It was the parley between the Harding and Lowden men, however, which apparently bore the most fruit when the balloting began again, for Governor Lowden came to the convention during the ninth roll call and reversing a previous plan to go into the Harding camp, he issued instructions from behind the scenes releasing his instructed delegates.

Senator Harding also was in the rear of the Coliseum platform during the voting and conferred with Chairman Hays.

Almost as soon as the alphabetical call of states began after the recess, the ground swell for Harding demonstrated that it could not be forestalled. Connected, when his name was called, took 13 of her 14 votes from Lowden and gave them to Harding.

In Florida he received seven votes from Wood and then Kentucky, almost from the first a solid Lowden state, flopped completely into the Harding column.

More Delegates Flop.

Amid scenes of rising enthusiasm, other blocks of Lowden delegates followed suit while many of the routed Wood supporters also went into the Harding camp. By the end of the roll call, Senator Harding had rolled up a total of 374, putting him far into the lead and several scores of votes nearer the nomination than any candidate had been before.

Lowden at the end of the ninth had only 121 votes left out of the 207 with which he ended the eighth, and General Wood's strength had fallen from 299 on the eighth to 249 on the ninth. Johnson dropped from 87 to 82.

As the tenth roll call began, delegates quit Lowden, Wood and Johnson right and left and the big haul was almost continuous applause as state after state announced accep-sion to the Harding standard. It was reserved for Pennsylvania to add the crowning touch of enthusiasm. When the Keystone was reached the Ohio senator needed 33 votes to nominate him and Pennsylvania gave 60. It was Governor Sproul, himself the candidate of his state on every preceding ballot and mentioned many times as a possible dark horse, to break the deadlock, who announced the big Pennsylvania vote for Harding. Entering the Coliseum floor for the first time since the balloting began, he made his way to the Pennsylvania standard and amid cheers, released the delegation from longer support of him. Then he took a poll, got the floor, and threw in the winning Harding votes.

A demonstration of several minutes followed most of the delegates
